On July 18 the Essex Cat Club held its first exemption show at the Community Centre Tilbury, Essex. It was the very first pedigree cat show ever held in Essex. It was a first for the whole of the committee. None of us had ever been involved in running a full scale cat show.

When, on November 9 1968, at the inaugural meeting the first committee was elected we hardly knew each other. What we lacked in 'know-how' we made up for with enthusiasm, good will and good humour. All three have lasted and spread throughout the months of hard work in forming the club; and the idea of 'doing-it-ourselves' did not seem a bad one at all when 'our show' was first suggested.

We owe a lot of thanks to a lot of experienced people in the cat fancy. It is thanks to their help and advice we were able to stage our first show 'ourselves'.

We were delighted to have with us on our proud day our president, Mrs Aitken, who looked marvellous after having recovered from her illness. It is thanks to Mrs Aitken that the Essex Cat Club came into being—without her advice and support at all times we may never have come so far so soon.

We were pleased to have with us Miss Kit Wilson, our first honorary member, who beautifully summed up the bond between our pedigree and pet cat members, and presented the Pet Cup to the winner.

Our thanks to Mr Philpot, who as MC steered us through the day and Mrs Philpot for all her pre-show help. We thank all judges who gave us the honour of coming to our first show.

May I here add my own personal thanks to those judges present who have kept a friendly eye on me and my cats throughout the years—ever since our Old Nelson won the very first prize for 'the longest tail'. I was delighted too that the most famous show managers came along (as judges)—it was the most wonderful moral support any budding show manager could wish for.

Our surprise guest was Frau D Wolff from Germany—editor of 'Die Edelkatze'.

I am at a loss for words to thank my committee for all they have done towards success. Never a grumble, full of ideas and cheerful good will. On the day they made me feel as cherished as—well—almost my wedding day. My most heartfelt thanks to my husband who at last can claim to have 'written a book' (he did the whole book for the table—and had never seen one before in his life). Mr Marshall, who is an absolute treasure of a secretary and Mr Brooks, who developed quite unexpected talents. He made the beautiful award boards, the hall plan and the layout of the pens—plan!

Friday before the show practically the whole of the committee were at the hall, plus husbands and wives and Mr and Mrs Marfleet. Work shifts were re-arranged by one, workers paid off in a hurry so the boss could get to the hall; another was 'too ill' to go to work—another picked roses by torchlight—and my telephone was red hot by Thursday night with calls of the committee members to be sure I have all the help in the world. Nobody slept the night before!

Mr De Ferry and his team most ably managed the table, Mrs Brooks, Mrs Marfleet, Mrs Mildon, our Essex Cat Club stall (to be continued by the way throughout the year at my cattery—all gifts etc available), Mr and Mrs Turner brought half a warehouse full of lovely gifts to buy. Mr Grange, Mr Cordell and Mr Cooper (our raffle-light) worked to the motto: 'you name it, we'll do it'—and did it! Mrs Grange had our many trophies ready for presentation in good time. Mrs Cordell was 'in charge' of the judges' comfort.

We thank all the stewards, the willing workers on the stalls, the juniors for manning the tombola and Mr Noquet for his enthusiastic advertising campaign and delicious 'Essex' cake.

Our committee thought it would be nice to have a supreme winner at this our first show. Mrs Ashford won this honour with her lovely Cornish Rex kitten and was presented with the winners rosette by Mrs Aitken. Mrs Aitken then presented the trophies to all winners, followed by a charming address to the interested audience. She had a surprise up her sleeve too—an absolutely beautiful book which she presented to me on behalf of the committee. I had admired it for weeks and the committee had gone and got one for me. It is beautifully engraved and signed by all of them. I shall treasure it for the rest of my life! Really, this is the kind of gesture which makes everything worth while.

Someone shouted 'speech' knowing full well I couldn't say a word. I croaked into the microphone 'thank you all for coming' and thus closed the show accidentally.

The little Grange's girls presented bouquets to our two VIP's Mrs Aitken and Miss Kit Wilson and suddenly it was all over.

The workmen moved in to dismantle the cages, the men of the committee armed themselves with brooms—an hour later the hall was cleared and shiny—as if we had never been. C COLVILLE (Mrs), Show manager, Hutton, Brentwood, Essex.

Miss M L Rodda's classes

Congratulations and many thanks to the show manager, Mrs Colville and her committee for making the first Essex Cat Club show a well organised and very enjoyable event. Many grateful thanks to my steward Mrs Poulter, who was stewarding for the first time, she carried out her duties well and quietly.

WHITE Cat: 1 Colville's Charmina Zumas Zumend, good coat for time of year, nice nose, needs stronger chin, ears could be smaller, nice shape eyes. AC Senior cat: 1 Colville's Dooneen Rosalind, good type, excellent eyes, well placed ears, good nose and chin, coat shady and rather hot on back. 2 Fisher's Ch Praha Shawnee, nice type, good coat, correct markings. 3 Ch Praha Sik-Kim, nice head, good eyes, nice points marking on one back leg not very good. C Zumas Zumend Limit LH: 1 Newsome's Wynette Fleur, nice type, wide awake eyes, nice top of head, coat well mingled, dark tail. 2 D Rosalind 3 Marfleet's Brackenhill Perry, good type Cream kitten, full coat rather shady, very pale under tail, nice top of head, good eyes, nice nose and chin. r Marfleet's Dooneen Dairy Maid, very shady coat, slight bars on legs, excellent eyes, need more chin. Resident outside Essex: 1 Newsome's Gaydene Gloria, excellent type, short broad nose, good muzzle, well placed ears, nice eyes, sound coat. 2 W Fleur 3 r Fisher's Ch P Shawnee and P Sik-Kim vhc Gray's Dizzy Dougal. All other classes were club classes. I must mention a lovely White neuter Kalis Mystral Sir Echloe and a very promising Cornish Rex kitten Ashford's Annelida Lola. M L RODDA

Mrs G Pond's classes

Heartiest congratulations to Mrs Colville and her very hard working committee on a beautifully organised show. As a show manager I well appreciated how much thought and co-operation had gone into the running of the Essex Cat Club's first show and hope that it will be the fore-runner of many. Thank you too for the hospitality shown the judges and the much appreciated gift of little dishes. My steward was Miss Bench, and I was most impressed at the capable and kindly way she handled the cats at her first stewarding. Many thanks to her. I hope she will steward for me again some time.

COLOURPOINT Female: 1 Bentinck's Copp-lestone Belina, Seal Point, very good type and big round blue eyes, cobby body, with good coat, slightly darker on back, well defined points 2 Bentinck's Copp-lestone Maria, Blue Point, good coat colouring and well defined points, eye colour good, but nose a little too long, very well prepared BIRMAN: 1 Fisher's Ch Praha Shawnee, good coat and gauntlets, nice coat texture and type, eyes could be a little deeper in colour, mask brindled today 2 Fisher's Ch Praha Sik-Kim, good full coat, gauntlets on back of leg not quite so good as his sister's, body colouring and points very nice CREAM OR BLUE-CREAM Kitten: 1 Marfleet's Blackenhill Perry, large male with lovely eyes and good type, full cream coat, rather pale underneath, should make a good stud 2 Silverman's Helma Gabriella, pretty little kitten with pale coat, eyes good, cobby body, ears little big 3 Silverman's Genevieve, another pretty kitten with pale coat, good eyes, falls a little on type AOO SELF Neuter: 1 Kalis's Mystral Sir Echoe, lovely full white coat and short full tail, the owner deserves congratulations on the cat's presentation, good top to head and very nice blue eyes, nose little long, my nomination maid c B Jill. GRACE POND

Mrs Phyllis Hughes's classes

Mrs Colville and her assistants must be delighted with the success of their first show.
The entries were 635 and number of exhibits 159, which is highly satisfactory for a first exemption show. I feel sure we shall enjoy other shows run by the same team. Mrs Gornall, who acted as my steward, was all a steward should be, and I thank her most sincerely.

BROWN BURMESE Cat male: 1 Smith's Magamba Satan, very good eye colour, correct shape, rich coat colour, good tail, rounded top of head, relatively large ears, excellent profile 2 Stanton's Abu Khama, very good top of head and ear set, firm chin, slight profile break, fair eye colour, well-shaped, excellent coat texture showing a few white hairs 3 Warren-Hurlock's Linlunke Azam, excellent coat colour and texture, good blunt wedge with nice profile, ears wide at base, green eyes Female: 1 Wallbutton's Myingan Mora, very good colour, excellent eyes, top of head, could be rounder, nice profile, slightly whip tail, good ears 2 Jameson's Bowerscroft Concorde, well domed head, good profile, eyes watering, rich coat colour, points rather too defined at present BLUE BURMESE Male: 1 Easton's Kupra Blue Barnaby, good wedge and profile, excellent ear set, good eyes, nice texture, coat rather fawn today Female: 1 Stanton's Sulih Rhani, very good colour, rounded top of head, typical profile with good eye shape and colour, excellent ears 2 Cox's Berdoma Yamethin, excellent ear set and domed head, fair eye colour, nose rather straight, coat out of condition 3 Jameson's Bastet Blue Aurora, nice ear placement, wide at base, fair eye colour, coat out of condition. All the Burmese in these classes conformed to the standard for body shape with long slender legs CORNISH REX Cat male: 1 Barnfield's Teradine Amber Lady, well rexed coat, curly whiskers, flat skull, straight nose, medium head, almond eyes of good colour, long legs, neat feet, fine tail 2 Barnfield's Teradine Saucy Sandy, cream, coat not plush on back, curly whiskers, long head with good upright ears, excellent type body, legs and tail 3 Ball's Southam Jester, red, lacks waves on back, curly whiskers, excellent tail, type of head, body and legs Female: 1 Ashford's Annelida Painted Lacy, well rexed tortie, lovely bright colours, good eyes, head medium length, slight bend in nose, good body shape, legs and tail BROWN BURMESE Kitten male: 1 Simmons's Burtenashan Torhat, excellent coat colour and texture, very good profile, nice top of head, fair ear set, good body length Female: 1 Bentinck's Copp-lestone Chollita, ideal head, wedge shaped but blunt at jaw, nicely rounded, promising eye colour and colour of coat, a charming exhibit BLUE BURMESE Kitten female: 1 Dennison's Navron Blue Zuleika, another good one, condition and colour of coat excellent, good wedge, dome, eyes and set of ears, slender legs and good tail CORNISH REX Kitten: 1 Ashford's Annelida Lola, I could not fault this silvery blue kitten, perfect for coat, type, right down to long tail and up again to curly whiskers, my nomination for best in show, which she won BROWN BURMESE Neuter: 1 Marshall's Andenia Black Opal, rich, dark, shining coat, good eye colour, large, wide open ears, tapering tail, firm, elegant body and legs 2 Fardell's Lenkye Kubera ran winner close, same remarks apply, except for greater contrast in colour of chest SELF COLOUR Breeders kitten: 1 A Lola 2 Rockell's Sage, Devon Rex, full cheeked, whisker break, large eyes, excellent ars and nose stop, fair rexing on back, thinner on underside 3 Worthy's Sayinara Bue Monday, better coat texture, thin on underside, good width of head, nose, stop, large ears and flat skull, would like chin firmer. PHYLLIS HUGHES

Mrs E Menezes's classes

Congratulations to Mr Shewbridge, Mr Warde and their committee on such a jolly fine show. I was very pleased to judge the household pets, they were all so beautiful.
Many thanks to my steward, Jean Jackson.
Together we had great pleasure handling the lovely cats.

BLACK OR BLACK AND WHITE: 1 Ramage's Alfie, Longhaired, coat needed a little more grooming, lovely green eyes, pretty face, a little heavy 2 Franks' Miki Finn, would have been first but very difficult to handle, in judging household pets, friendliness is most important, lovely clean looking cat TORTIE: 1 Franks's Candy, coat in lovely condition, an attractive cat perfectly white bib, black legs with white paws, rest of body tortoiseshell AOV: 1 Baxter's Kinsley, a very beautiful ginger tabby intermingled coat, in perfect condition, ginger face and ginger tip to tail, a lovely looking animal, my best household pet 2 Preen's Buffy, a beautiful blue, coat lovely and sleek, very good condition, beautiful eyes, very friendly 3 Colville's Gorbe Nageeb, a lovely odd-eyed white in spotless condition, coat sparkling, very friendly and so attractive r Baxter's Timus, very lovely coat, perfect condition, beautiful big eyes vhc Wakeling's Phipps, blue Shorthaired cat, coat a little open, beautiful golden eyes, very friendly TABBY OR TABBY AND WHITE: 1 Deakin's Juliette, the most friendly cat in the show in beautiful condition, lovely curled tufts also she had fascinating furry toes, most attractive 2 Preen's Mr Tigg, very big, mackerel tabby, very good condition, lovely green eyes, needs to be slimmer for show GINGER OR GINGER AND WHITE: 1 Franks's Benny, very lovely cat, his white was spotless, he looked super, very friendly but a little nervous 2 Frank's Ginger Tom, coat a little thin and rather open, beautifully ringed tail, very friendly, pretty face, green eyes, I heard later he was eight years old. EDITH MENEZES

SIAMESE ASSOCIATION

Mrs M E Macalister's classes

My thanks to the Association for asking me to judge at their beautifully run show and also for the gift given to the judges. My steward Mrs Abbott stepped in at the last moment and to her my gratitude for being so attentive and handling the exhibits well and altogether being a very good steward. I must apologise for being so late with this report. Summer is a busy time for besides cats and a small boarding cattery we have a fair size garden and the weeds just defy us and will not stay 'dead'.

TABBY POINT Male 8: 1 ch Annuskan's Zils Zeno, lovely wedge which set off very good head, slim legs ending in neat feet, beautiful eye colour which is almost always seen on the TPs, good eye shape, well-set ears, coat shading which one does not expect on a Choc Tabby 2 Aslin's Seremban Liger, a most friendly male who behaved beautifully, good eye shape and attractive colour, strong profile, nice coat contrast and well set ears, tail rather thick at root 3 Deakin's Senty-Twix Tarquin, good body length and tail, well shaped tyes of good colour, very good coat colour, beautiful profile, well set ears, rather pinched which spoilt an otherwise good cat r Greenland's Moonfleet Mica's Aries, ears a little on the small side and placed a bit too far forward, perfect milk chocolate Tabby points, eyes rather full but of lovely colour, nice legs and feet, good profile with long nose AC Senior 8: 1 Neale's Ch Sislinski Topal SP male, large ears, well set, strong profile, eyes appeared to be two shades of blue, good body length and tail, latter a little thick at root, slender legs 2 Rogers's Hi-Lee Khalifah, LP male, long body and tail excellent eye shape, very fine in muzzle, slight chin weakness 3 Humphries's Supra Diana, BP female, large cat but well proportioned body and tail, nice legs, eyes rather on the sapphire side, very good contrast with pale coat and dark blue points VISITORS SP or BP Female kitten 10: 1 Appleby's Tamaris Sarabande, SP, lovely wedge and profile also eye colour, but eyes rather full, nice body length, tail thick at root, good legs and feet, good contrast 2 Dodgson's Fanton Sara, SP, fair type, good legs, tail wants more length, attractive eye colour but too round and ears a little high 3 Sudbury's Danbeck Calif, SP, rather short in head and eyes round, good length tail and lovely contrast CP, LP and Breed 32 female kitten 12: 1 Warner's Spotlight Sekale, TP, very dainty kitten with large ears well set, good eye colour, fairly well set, good body length and tail, long legs 2 Holt's Pitapat Kinewa, CP, well balanced kitten of lovely type, pale coat one expects on a CP, a very fine muzzle, slight weakness to chin 3 Warner's Spotlight Seesaw, TP, perfectly set ears, lovely eye colour but too round, good body length and tail, fine boned, pale coat r Newnham's Wenrob Catalina, LP, another well balanced kitten and dainty with lovely eye shape, slight weakness to chin. Four promising kittens. MARJORIE MACALISTER

Mrs D Clarke's classes

The Siamese Cat Association is to be conlated on a very successful and enjoyable show held in the Pier Ballroom at Hastings. My thanks to Mr Shearbridge who stewarded for me very efficiently and handles cats, difficult or otherwise, very expertly.

LILAC POINT Female: 1 ch Bond's Bru-Bur Rajusa, very well grown and shown in lovely condition, good coat texture, fair tail and excellent eye shape, slender paws and oval feet, very strong straight jaw, ears set too high for my liking and inclined to be 'Steeple'. I hesitated for some time before awarding the championship because of the ear set but decided on balance that she just made the grade 2 North's Fairdinkum Lilac Felicity, nice eyes and good ear set, fair tail, appeared rather immature today, needs time 3 Macdonald's Doneen Lilac Time, good coat, excellent tail and nice ear set, muzzle pinched and no mask at all today r Howard's Fosseyway Lilac Symphony, good top to head and eye shape, tail could be longer and jaw stronger, slight pinch. On the whole I found this class disappointing. Far too many round eyes and weak chins AOO Adolescent male: 1 Deakin's Herbe Slipperhee, BP, very tpy, excellent eye shape and a really oriental look, large and masculine, coat going too fawn on body 2 Froom's Dryas Brorup, BP, excellent profile and ear set, not quite so typically Siamese in expression as the winner, his coat was too fawn also 3 Galea's Craigiehilloch Choringo, good colour CP, long nose and lovely ears, rather fed up with life when I reached him r Jale's Choc-o-Gold, CP, good body colour and points, nice long cat everywhere, eyes a little round Male adolescent (split): 1 Sowerby's Karenza Lilac Domino, very attractive cat, excellent coat and real

THE CAT WHICH HAS STOLEN THE HEART AND THE HOME

I fell in love with your blue eyes;
The cold clear gaze of ancient skies;
Your lovely grace, your perfect poise;
Your devilish seagull-haunted noise;
I fell in love for the rest of my days With Siamese cats and their heavenly ways.
E Vivien Edmonds

IN THE ninety years of its life in Britain the Siamese cat has undergone many changes. It has taken on a more elegant shape and donned a coat of new colours. But its greatest and its strangest change has nothing to do with this: it is about the place of the Siamese cat in society.

Up to the turn of the century, and even well beyond, the Siamese cat was an oddity. Some people said it wasn't a cat at all: it was a rabbit; it was a monkey. Worse still, it was the devil, and there were those who would cross themselves at the sight of this sleek-eyed creature, and who would hide beneath the blankets at night at the sound of its high pitched unmelodious yowl.

Today it is almost a sign of a cultured home to have a Siamese cat. It has taken the place on the hearth of the Victorian non-descript Tabby. It is tailor-made for the well-run household. It is smooth, immaculate, in good taste; it fits. When one thinks of the things it used to get up to—and still on occasions does—the metamorphosis is unbelievable.

The truth is that beneath the cat's undoubted charm there lurks a vein of destruction, of low cunning (which betrays itself in thieving), of deception, of spitefulness even—which are all part of the Siamese character and at one time were undisputedly predominant.

Have then these traits been bred out? Hardly that, though temperament is something to which breeders pay considerable attention. The explanation lies more likely in the cat's remarkable ability to adapt itself to its surroundings. It is very sensitive to everything that goes on, and particularly to the attitude, the actions and the voices of people. It does not imitate so much as emulate. It has an understanding which goes far deeper than that of most creatures. It senses human passions to an astonishing degree.

Over the years, and throughout all the changes brought about by the art of the breeder, the cat, unaided, has adapted itself to a new way of life—our modern way of life. There is little more to it than that.

The result is that the strange cat which came to Britain from Siam around 1880, highly charged with an aura of oriental magic, is today, whether as a pet or as a show animal, the homeliest of all creatures, an integral part of the family.

Plenty of romance and mystery there certainly was about those early Siamese. They were the treasured gifts of the high-bred; they had a close association with the departed souls of kings; they had their place alongside the priests in the temples. Even the physical characteristics of those early imports had been acquired in astonishing ways. A princess on her way to bathe had put her precious ring on her cat's tail and then tied a knot to remind her of something (maybe to get dressed before returning to the palace!) Hence the kink in the Siamese tail! The squint in the eye, which affected some people as does the harmless broomstick, had come from the perpetual vigilance of a lone cat over a gold and jewelled ornament on the dimly-lighted altar of a high temple.

Fascinating stories abounded. It was almost a pity when, in 1901, the Siamese ambassador in London confirmed that there was no Royal Cat of Siam, that the King did not keep cats, that the Legation had no Siamese and that, indeed, the breed was rare in Siam where, believe it or not, the Tabby ruled the roost!

The Siamese cats which came to Britain in the 1880's, and for many years after, were of two distinct varieties. The 'Royal' was pale coated with seal points. I had blue eyes. The 'chocolate' was darker all over and had orange eyes.

The Siamese Cat Club, formed in 1902, drew up a standard for both Royals and Chocolates, but urged from the beginning the breeding of the pale coloured blue-eyed cat. This was the variety which ultimately won the day and became the basis of the Seal Pointed Siamese as we know it today.

Not, however, without sweat and tears. Readers of FUR AND FEATHER who think that some of its present contributors may sometimes go 'a bit far' should look up volumes of this journal for the 'thirties to discover what the euphony of 'acrimonious discussion' really means. Passions were inflamed, life-long friendships were grievously dented. There was some impossible theorising; some hopeless mixing of the Royal with the Chocolates. But also there was the beginning of some sound genetical work which later bore a rich harvest.

Realising that the Siamese pattern is a mutation (comparable to the Himalayans and Californian rabbit) the recessive genes of which could be isolated by selection, breeders in later years, particularly in the post-war period, began to make enormous changes and improvements.

They 'made' the cat and they made it in Britain. The Siamese cat of today is as British as the Sherwood Forest oak. These improvements have amounted almost to a change in the whole cat. Conformation has become finer. The big heavy Siamese of former times are no more. The squint has largely disappeared (though even the top cats will occasionally show it in moments of anger or intense concentration: old characteristics after all, die hard). At one time there was more than a sprinkling of white spotting on toes and feet: it marred the colour of points if nothing more. That, too, has gone. As for the kink? Well, most of today's authorities are 'agin' it, so who is the present writer to mourn its passing? Actually it does not merit disqualification on the show bench, but generally it is frowned upon even when it is a mere suggestion at the very tip of the tail.

And, of course, there have been new colours. To the Seal Point has been added the Blue Point, the Chocolate Point, the Lilac Point, the Red Point, the Tabby and the Tortie Points. 'Dilutions' if not infinite are not yet exhausted. Type, in all the colours, is the same, though there are important differences in degree of body colour and in the blue eye colour.

The Siamese has been the intensive study and the enduring joy of some very notable people in the cat fancy. One thinks of Phyl Wade, Mrs Duncan Hindley, Kathleen Williams, Elsie Kent (Mrs Hart), the Denhams . . . But how invidious to mention the few when there are today so many. It seems to have a particular attraction for writers and publishers—Sir Compton Mackenzie, Mr Michael Joseph. There really is something uniquely appealing about the Siamese cat.

The person who is thinking of buying a Siamese cat is urged to get in touch with a successful and established breeder, and, generally speaking, to buy a kitten rather than a grown cat. Buy a 'well bred' kitten even if the intention is merely to add another member to the family rather than to go in for exhibition. 'Pedigree' shows on the hearth as well as on the show bench.

Neutering of a male kitten—preferably between three and five months of age—and the spaying of a female, will be advisable in many cases. Siamese are prolific and unwanted kittens are just what the adjective implies. So don't have them.

It is prudent for the prospective owner of a Siamese to know something about the cat before the kitten is actually purchased. Literature is plentiful. Excellent books including Kathleen Williams 'Siamese Cats', (Foyles) and May Eustace's vastly informative 'The Royal Cat of Siam' (Pelham Books), but there is nothing quite so down to earth as

READERS WRITE . . . MAKE RULES MORE DIFFICULT TO BEND

THE proposed ruling that no cat or kitten (entire or neuter) with one or both parents unregistered shall be eligible for open classes at championship shows needs more than re-consideration.

A similar proposal about three years ago resulted in Miss Hardman withdrawing her fine cat Ch Killinghall Red Bon Bon from the show bench (until the proposal was withdrawn) and several of the others with unregistered sires suddenly appearing with a daddy after all!

These sires had a wonderful collection of names to legitimise their sons and daughters and helped to keep these 'pedigree' offspring on the show bench. Some of us watched this mushroom-like growth of stud cats who sprang up overnight with much amusement at their names and marvelled at their owners' duplicity. Obviously the same thing will happen again.

The proposal, if it must be made, should read 'no cat or kitten (entire or neuter) with one or both parents and grandparents and great-grandparents unregistered shall be eligible for open classes at championship shows.'

This mainly affects the British cat. Anyone feeling proud of their British cat with no known pedigree on one or both sides can always show it as a household pet (providing it isn't registered). Or, they could register it and plod on industriously breeding for three or four generations until they have a known pedigree to make their efforts worth while.

The AOV owners who have never been able to compete for challenge certificates, despite owning and breeding cats and kittens with known pedigrees for several generations, will gladly encourage their efforts and urge them on.

It has never ceased to amaze me that any-

CHAMPIONS

WILL ALL owners of cats attaining their third challenge certificate or third premier certificate during the 1969/70 season, ending April 11, 1970, who have not yet sent in their claims to the secretary please do so without further delay.

The following details should be given: name of cat, breed number, sex, name of breeder, the names and dates of the shows together with the names of the judges awarding the three certificates. In due course a list of champions and premiers 1969/70 will be published and medals are sent direct from the medallist towards the end of the year.
W DAVIS, secretary

Sidney and Helen Denham's 'The Complete Book of the Siamese Cat'.

The prospective owner should also have seen his Siamese at a show or in the home of a breeder and should have a picture of it in his mind. It is not necessary at this stage to learn the standard by heart, but he should know that the Siamese is a cat medium in size, long and svelte in body, slim legged and with the hind legs characteristically rather higher than the front ones. The tail should be long and tapered and the head typically wedge-shaped with width between the eyes narrowing in perfectly straight lines to a fine muzzle. And then there are the unforgettable blue eyes. The coat should be 'short and fine in texture, glossy and close lying' and about the whole cat there should be a clear 'expression of alertness and intelligence.'

Your Siamese, in short, is a creature of striking appearance. He is a jungle animal who has somehow crept indoors overnight and decided to stay. He has strength, speed, agility; he also has languid grace. His voice may be a little surprising, but he comes as near to talking as any creature outside the human race.

body's queen who 'gets out', be she Longhair, British Shorthair or Foreign Shorthair, can have her offspring entered as a British kitten if it remotely resembles one instead of being entered for competition as a household pet.

When adult, this same offspring, despite its doubtful lineage, can then compete for and win challenge certificates and could eventually end up as a champion at stud.

The AOV owners, in the meantime, cannot even enter their legitimate cats in so much as the breeders' class, visitors class or any other class except their open AOV unless they have joined a club which caters for the breed. They depend on cat clubs kindly putting on a miscellaneous AOV class before they can show their cats and kittens at all.

Show rules state that cats and kittens must be entered in two classes. Show rules also state that AOV's can only compete in classes nominated for AOV's. No such restrictions are placed on mongrel or half mongrel cats!

We shall not change human nature, but at least we can make the proposed ruling, if it is considered necessary, more difficult to bend by owners and breeders with personal ambitions to win coloured cards with half or wholly mongrel cats in breed classes, by insisting on three known generations before a cat can compete in open classes.

Maybe then such cats will end up where they deserve to be—much-loved neutered pets on a family hearth. Or, they can be kept at home being bred from with a view to perfecting a breed instead of being trotted out to shows with the object of piling up useless pieces of coloured cardboard.

This should surely prove whether the owners of such cats have the welfare of the breed at heart or not, and those who truly wish to show the results of their labours can always enter their progressive results 'for exhibition only' until such time as they have the necessary number of generations eligible for open classes. DOREEN WATTS

SONNET

Ivor, I knew you never could resist Writing for FUR AND FEATHER. Such a lot Of wondrous erudition would be missed, Whether the points were pertinent or not;
So if Vice-Chairmen have to abdicate From being lords of verbal castigation We must be glad that we can still await Your views—though after suitable mutation.
But leave Euterpe for Erato's jingle?
Thus you forgot that cats lean to the Right, And have instructed Pasht—Pasht—not to mingle
Her skill with yours. Ah, much-mistaken wight!
In life, in love, in prosody or rhyme—She'll get the better of you every time!
PHYLLIS LAUDER

A LESSON

The cats we fancy, fancy cats as well, And when they love, they call with accents vile.
Does Ivor's accent mean plain 'go to Hell'
Or does he clothe a love of man with bile?
Is he perfection in his jaundiced eye?
Does he so often cast a blameless stone?
Who too rudely pushes others by He may find himself left friendless and alone.
'Tis true 'There's nothing so becomes a man As modest stillness and humility.' Pray Ivor, learn this lesson while you can;
Ban venom from your tongue's agility.
Others may be less erudite than you, No gentle man would say so, as you do.
FELID

SIAMESE GET TOGETHER

I AM sorry that we have had such a long gap between our 'Get Together's, but so many things have happened so fast that I have been unable to set a date. However I am now in my new house and am just coming up for air. I can get from room to room without having to do a mountaineering act.
The first free Saturday is on August 22, so we shall hold our next Get Together then, from 2.30 pm. It will be exactly the same

Come along as and when you can. There are quite a few new members of the cat world who have expressed an interest, I hope they will be able to join us.
To my old friends, I hope you will all be able to find your way. I think it better if I don't give directions. If you should get lost, better phone from wherever you are, new number is 01 2726132. New address is 33

Many thanks to those of you who sent me cards, and those of you who phoned to wish us luck, we did appreciate it.
I hope as many of you as possible will be with us. In the meantime the suggestion has been made that we change the day from Saturday to Sunday. If any of you would prefer this, perhaps you would think about it and let me know on the 22nd. E I GORNALL

IMMUNISATION

IT IS very gratifying to see an official notice in FUR AND FEATHER with reference to 'compulsory inoculation prior to the exhibition of cats and kittens'. Vaccination of cats against Panleucopenia is a very debatable subject; also whether the vaccination has 'taken' cannot, I understand, be proved.
An outbreak of Panleucopenia is seldom heard of and when it is, seems to be in 'over catted' catteries. My contention is that more emphasis should be put on good feeding, healthy conditions, and a limited number of cats.
It appears feline influenza is far more deadly and there is no vaccine to prevent this. (Mrs) MARGERY BISHOP, London

As shown in FUR AND FEATHER of July 23 the Governing Council of the Cat Fancy still has under consideration the proposal that no cat or kitten should be admitted to an approved show that is certified to have been immunised against Feline Panleucopenia.

Although this may be an ideal to be aimed at, in my view it is premature and assumes an effectiveness and safety that many veterinary surgeons would not endorse. Three veterinary surgeons of my acquaintance do not advise the inoculation of adult cats of three years and over, nor booster inocula-tions of older kittens and young adult cats other than Siamese and then, if considered to be at increased risk.

'Instant legislation' is to be deplored and much more investigation is needed before a mandatory rule is made.
It would be difficult for some owners to prove that their adult cats have been immunised. If a rule is required at present, I suggest that it should take the form that all kittens born after 1 August 1970, should be immunised and the form or forms of immunisation intended should be defined.

Although I am the chairman and a delegate of Kensington Kitten and Neuter Cat Club I am writing in my personal capacity. (Mrs) E M ALLEN-SMITH

GRATITUDE

I FEEL I must thank two extremely nice cat people, who have given me a tremendous amount of help as a novice breeder of Siamese cats. They are Violet and Tom Paramor of Physalis fame.
I am fortunate in that I live quite close to them. They have always been willing to give advice and have really helped me a great deal. I shall always be grateful to them.

I have found at the two shows I have attended, that the well known breeders have been only too willing to help and give encouragement to a novice exhibitor. However I noticed amongst the smaller unknown breeders a lot of petty jealousies and snide remarks made about other exhibitors cats.
I hope I never do this. SUSAN S HUGGINS (Mrs) Dagenham.

NOTICE

'Mrs Mary Durnill wishes it to be known that she has written to the chairman of the Governing Council of the Cat Fancy personally dissociating herself from the action of the Executive Committee of the Governing Council of the Cat Fancy in dismissing the Siamese Registrar.'

CLUB NEWS

REX CAT CLUB AGM

The annual general meeting of the Rex Cat Club was held on May 30 at the YWCA Central Club, Great Russell Street, London at 3.30 pm.

Twenty-eight members attended and fourteen sent apologies. Dr Raleigh was re-elected chairman according to the rules by the committee at a meeting prior to the annual general meeting. Mrs Genty, treasurer, and Mrs Shrouder, secretary and delegate to the GCCF with Mr Macaulay as substitute delegate. Mr Rensson was re-elected to the committee and Mrs Ashford was elected as a new committee member.

The club had put forward to the governing council three new names to be added to the list of judges for Cornish and Devon Rex cats, Mrs Macalister and Mrs Genty, for the full list and Mr Rensson as a probationer.

All are breeders of Rex cats and have been accepted by the governing council.
In addition to the agenda the progress of Rex cats was fully discussed. The points spoons were presented by Mrs Genty who had kindly donated them for the season.

It was decided to have a news letter and Dr Beck, a member of the club, offered to be the editor.

Subscriptions should be sent to the treasurer, Mrs Genty, 26 Dane Bank Road, Lynn, Cheshire, 10s or 50 new pence annual subscriptions. Entry fee 5s for new members.
Joint membership husband and wife or friends living at the same address 15s per annum and life membership 5 gns to members who have been in the club three years or more.
People applying for new membership should contact the secretary, Mrs Madge Shrouder, Cats Cottage, The Avenue, West Moors, Dorset.

THE CAPITAL

The Capital Long Hair Cat Association is very pleased to announce a profit of over £12 from an excellent afternoon's entertainment at Mr and Mrs Shephard's home. We were all introduced to their beautiful stud reigning in his palace. Thank you very much Lillie and Basil.

These social occasions are so welcome by cat lovers, who are able to meet in a leisurely atmosphere.

May I draw attention to the fact that our title 'Capital' is spelt with an 'A'. This one letter makes all the difference to the meaning of the word. Capital means important—first class—leading. Capitol is a Roman temple of Jupiter. (Mrs) MARGERY BISHOP, hon sec, 111 Nether Street, London N12 8AB.

COLOURPOINT REX-COATED AND AOV CLUB

Following a number of letters and statements which have appeared from time to time in your columns the committee and officers wish to make it clear that official views and opinions held by the officers and committee are those appearing as signed by the hon secretary and by no other person.
(Mrs) B PORTER, hon secretary.

EAST SUSSEX PEDIGREE CAT CLUB

The inaugural meeting of the East Sussex Pedigree Cat Club was held at the White Rock Pavilion, Hastings, on Jun 13.

The following officers were elected: President J Montgomery; chairman, J Austin; secretary, Mrs M Buttery; minute secretary, Mrs V Larkin; treasurer, Mrs M Hyde. Committee: Mrs F Austin, Mrs S Bridges, Miss F Huish, T Hyde, Miss B Perkins, Mrs M Wade, Mrs A Whittaker.

The club aims to bring together breeders and owners of pedigree cats in the county for mutual discussion, help, and advice, and to promote and extend interest in pedigree cats. Kitten, stud and boarding registers are being compiled. Regional officers have been appointed throughout the county for the purpose of organising local social events and aiding distressed cats.

A garden party will be held at Beacon House, Broad Oak, Rye, on August 22, in conjunction with the Foreign Shorthair Cat Club. Applications for membership welcomed to the hon secretary Mrs M Buttery, Beacon House, Broad Oak, Rye, Sussex. Telephone: Brede 326.

Obituary

MAJOR M BRIDGEMAN MRCVS

We, in the Veterinary profession, have lost a skilled and gentle man, one who hated cruelty in any form and who was compassionate to man and beast, helping the ignorant owner to understand the need of his animal be it horse, donkey, dog or cat, and seeing through the 'smart guy' type who would try and get away with sharp practice.

We in the cat Fancy have lost a well-loved friend. Early mornings at the vetting-in table will not be the same again.

He was such fun to be with and in spite of pain and difficulties I never heard him grumble. He handled the cats gently and could quieten the most frightened.

Au revoir dear Monty, we miss you so much, but life has been made better by knowing you. ELIZABETH WOODGER, MRCVS

The sudden death of Major N Bridgeman on July 27 came as a shock to us all. Those close to him and who worked with and for him as well as the many thousands of cat owners who came into contact with him throughout his long and valued services to the cat fancy.

His absence will be regretfully felt in the future. I know I have lost a very dear friend.
A COLIN-CAMPBELL

MISS E M ELLIAS

Members of the Blue Pointed Siamese Cat Club will learn with regret of the death of Miss E M Ellias who has been a member of this club for many years. She was keenly interested in the welfare of her cats, and well known for the beautiful Brondeys Siamese, some being international champions.

Unfortunately due to a long period of ill-health Miss Ellias was unable to attend many shows.

We extend our sympathies to her relatives and friends, particularly to Miss Sanderson her lifelong friend. G L LAIT
